Hi there everyone, happy 2022 to you. I hope you got through the holidays safe and healthy. Thanks to @erpster79 for letting me know about Pokemon Grape getting a new previous update which helped to polish up the walkthrough. After Grape I'll update the site with the new information.

Hey, happy new year! Glad to hear you had a nice break.

What's up Knuckle San, how are you doing? It was a nice break but the rainy season is on, so all that grass won't cut itself. Fun times

I'm doing just fine, thanks. Haha. As somebody who sits in an office all day, I'm not sure if I'm considered proper winter? But did you say it's summer over there? I don't follow. I wonder if there's a difference between the seasons there and here. I mean, it never drops enough to be considered proper winter?

If proper winter temperatures are minus zero degrees and you still get snow, you wouldn't survive those snowy winters up there in the north. You don't get weekends off or time away for vacations and you have to work in the cold.

Nah, I guess any significant drop counts. I was just surprised to hear that you get snow there. Yeah, we get weekends off plus a generous amount of days off for holidays and we have to work in the cold.

Haha summers here are from November to March. No who's right? Okay, you've got a side business that you'll be going into.

Knuckle San Mod → Allen Cee · 2 months ago

Nah, I wish. That's the eventual goal but I'll probably have to work in the cold for the rest of my life.

There wasn't any Covid-related drama at your workplace? I mean, I think it's still there, but it's not as bad as it was a year ago. I think one thing this whole Covid-19 pandemic has taught us is that we can't rely on businesses to take care of us. Businesses close down for various reasons, but the aim was to reach a point later on where I can support myself.

I'm lucky enough to have the opportunity to work from home nowadays. I go once in a while mainly just to catch up with work. But yeah, tons of people and businesses have been hit hard.

That's some good news there, your company didn't have lockdowns. Working from home has really helped, because we have reached the final stage of this Covid period.
